Education

2006 – 2010

Mathematics
Bachelor of Science
Mathematics Department

2011 – 2014

Artificial Intelligence
Master of Science
CSE and IT Department

Dissertation

Proposing a Novel Method for Many-Objective Optimization Using Evolutionary Algorithms

Advisor: Dr. Ali Hamzeh

Publications

M. Abbasi Rad, A. Hamzeh “A Coevolutionary Approach to many objective optimization based on a novel ranking method” in Intelligent Data Analysis Volume 20 (1) 2016

Teacher assistant

Evolutionary Computing (Fall 2012)

Reviewed journal papers

I have reviewed a few manuscripts for IEEE Transactions on Cybernetics and IEEE Transactions on Evolutionary Computing.

Conferences attended

- Artificial Intelligence and Signal Processing (AISP), 2012 16th CSI International Symposium on
- Information and Knowledge Technology (IKT), 2013 5th Conference on

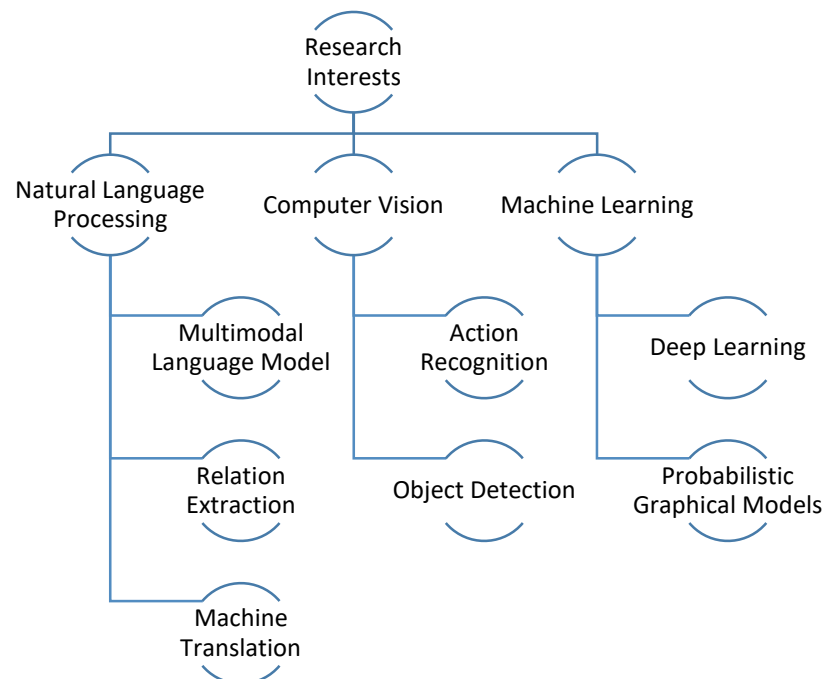

Research Projects

2011	Breaking Visual CAPTCHAs (Support Vector Machines) Fuzzy Rule Based Classification System
2012	Link Prediction (KDD Cup 2012) Multi-Objective Clustering (Cooperative Game Theory) Malware Categorization (Evolutionary Algorithms)
2013	Modeling Information Diffusion Fuzzy Prototype Learning
2015	Feature Selection Using Genetic Algorithms Multi-Objective Clustering Using Genetic Algorithms
2016	License Plate Character Segmentation

Work Experience

Since 2015	Researcher and Developer at Center for Intelligent Vision and Image Processing http://civip.shirazu.ac.ir/
2015	Research on Estimating Vehicle's Height
2016	Developing Speed Estimation Software Developing a new Character Segmentation Method
2017	Design and Development of a GUI for Labeling Data Research and Development of the LPR and OCR systems
